

Three Stricken on Ike's Private Car

Secret Service Probe Shows Accidental Cause

Incident Occurs
Three Days Before
Trip by President

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP)—One of three persons stricken with gastric upsets aboard a swank railroad car later used by President Eisenhower was reported today suffering from "acute uremic poisoning."

The U. S. Secret Service was investigating all aspects of the case—including the possibility that ginger ale which the railroad said the victims drank was poisoned. But the Secret Service's preliminary investigation uncovered no evidence that the incident resulted from anything but accidental causes.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President was protected by "full security measures" before boarding the car for the trip here from Washington Sunday night—three days after the incident. Hagerty said he was "not at all concerned" about the President's safety.

"Rather Serious Condition"

A spokesman for the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad, owner of the car, said three railroad employees suffered "upset stomachs" last Thursday after drinking the ginger ale. He said the ginger ale may have come from a long unused ice box on the car.

One of the victims—Nelson R. Hervig of Lakewood, Ohio—was reported in "rather serious" condition in Sibley Hospital at Washington. Dr. Robert Hotel, physician in charge of the case, said Hervig suffered from "acute uremic poisoning."

Another victim—an unidentified woman—was hospitalized in Huntington, W. Va. The Huntington Advertiser said she suffered from "acute poisoning."

The newspaper quoted the woman as saying she drank a soft drink that had a "cloudy look." It quoted her as saying she was told later the bottle contained ammonia.

The third victim—also a woman—recovered. She also was not immediately identified.

Howard Skidmore, C & O public relations director, said the three railroad employees drank the ginger ale while the car was being prepared for a test run from Huntington to Washington. The car—the Chessie 29—is usually used by C & O President Walter J. Touhy.

Skidmore said ginger ale was served and that some who drank it complained of its taste. Later the same night the three employees became ill.

Members of the Harrisburg Rotary club visited the Harrisburg Manufacturing Co. plant in the Cummins building at noon yesterday and witnessed the operations.

Atty. Trafton Dennis, Rotarian, made a talk at the factory, telling of its importance and its asset to the community. He said there was a need of more factories of the calibre of the one operated here by the Harrisburg Manufacturing Co.

The group was conducted through the factory by Richard Ford, manager, and Jerry Schmook, assistant manager, after they told the Rotarians how happy they were to be in Harrisburg. They said the public had been nice to them, and that they had found a lot of good workers in this community.

The Rotarians saw all the different phases of cap making on the tour. About 35 made the trip to the factory. Lowden Pankey was program chairman.

Prior to the visit to the factory, the Rotarians ate their meal at the Masonic temple.

Guests of the Rotarians were the highest ranking members of each of the four classes at HTHS who had not attended previously. They were: Freshman—Larry Smith 97 1-2; sophomore—Kendall McDonald 97 1-4; junior—Lois Annis 96; and senior—Carolyn Endsley 96 4-5.

Court Rules Anti-Racketeering Law Applies To Featherbedding Demands with Threats

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled Monday that the federal anti-racketeering law applies to union "featherbedding" demands supported by threats and violence.

Featherbedding is paying employees for work which the employer feels is unnecessary.

The government sought to use a 1946 anti-racketeering law, otherwise known as the Hobbs Act, to indict the Granite City, Ill., local of the International Hod Carriers Union on extortion charges. The local had allegedly made featherbedding demands of Arthur W. Terry, who had a government contract to maintain a levee at the Chain of Rocks Canal on the Mississippi River.

The Hobbs Act was an amendment to the original 1934 antiracketeering law, aimed at punishing individuals who use extortion to obstruct commerce.

The government contended Congress passed the Hobbs Act in 1946 to correct the 1934 law because the court had ruled in a previous case that the old statute didn't cover conduct like that of the hod carriers.

The Supreme Court agreed Monday in a 6-3 ruling. It sent the case back to the court of the late Federal Judge J. Leroy Adair, who had granted the union an arrest judgment after it had been convicted on two counts by a jury.

Justice Stanley F. Reed delivered the opinion. Dissenters were Chief Justice Earl Warren and Justices William O. Douglas and Hugo L. Black.

Barkley Predicts Democrats Will Retain Control of Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Alben W. Barkley said today the Democrats should hang on to control of the Senate next November but that no political party dares to take an election for granted.

The Kentucky Democrat, a party patriarch and wheelhorse, has agreed at the age of 78 to head the 1956 Democratic campaign to keep a Democratic majority in the Senate.

Because of the lineup of the Senate seats at stake this year, the Democrats have been highly optimistic about their chances of retaining Senate control whatever the outcome of the presidential and House elections.

"I never take any election for granted," Barkley told a reporter, "but in all probability I think we'll win the Senate." He declined to make predictions about specific states and cautioned that his own party must not be overconfident about its Senate prospects.

"The man who takes an election for granted is apt to slip up," he said, "and that is true of a political party, too."

While Barkley concerned himself with his party's efforts to keep control of the Senate, there were these developments in the fight for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said in Los Angeles that

A vehicle driven by David L. Following the collision Barnes complained of a sore neck, Sweet stated. Both machines were going west when the collision occurred.

Doctor, Accused of Killing Fourth Wife Three Months Ago, Found Dead in Hotel

CHICAGO (AP)—An inquest opened today into the drug death of a society doctor charged with killing his fourth wife only three months ago.

Police removed a door in a Loop hotel Monday night and found the pajama-clad body of Dr. Hobart H. Todd Jr., 43, sprawled across a bed.

unless Adlai E. Stevenson wins the California primary June 5, his chances of winning the presidential nomination will become remote. Humphrey, a Stevenson supporter, said he was sticking by Stevenson despite his loss in the Minnesota primary.

Dawn To Dusk

Sen. Estes Kefauver carried his hand-shaking campaign to the Los Angeles area Monday and was on the go from dawn until late at night.

Stevenson sent a message to a New York meeting of Foreign language editors calling for a revision of the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act and an end to "unfair discrimination against any of our citizens."

Former Democratic National Chairman Frank E. McKinney announced in Indianapolis that he will take an active role in behalf of New York Gov. Averell Harriman if and when Harriman becomes "an avowed candidate" for the Democratic nomination.

Gas Gathering System Completed In Eldorado Field

A natural gas gathering system, for the transmission of natural gas in the North Eldorado oil field, has been completed and gas started flowing through the pipeline during the past weekend.

The line was constructed by the Jade Oil and Gas Co., Tulsa, Okla., and preliminary work on the system began in the middle of December.

Sam L. Bewley, a vice president of the company, has been in charge of the work. He stated Monday that approximately 12 miles of pipeline had been laid, connecting the North Eldorado field with the Big Inch line of Texas Eastern Transmission Co.

The company may extend the system to include the Beulah Heights field at Eldorado and a survey of the Galatia field is being made. When asked if plans included a gathering system in the Galatia area, a spokesman said, "We're looking the field over. Our company is always interested in gas."

He added that the system there probably wouldn't include as many miles of pipelines as the North Eldorado system.

He beat her and gave her narcotics injections.

Authorities were unable to square Todd's story with scientific evidence that she had died of "intoxication by barbiturates." Officials said today that Todd had apparently died from the same cause.

Following his release, the former New York City physician left Chicago. He returned last Thursday and checked into the Atlantic Hotel near New York.

On Saturday, officials said, Todd sent a bell hop to a pharmacy with a prescription for second tablets, which have a hypnotic and sedative effect. The prescription was made out to his late wife, Hazel, 37.

Monday officials became concerned when Todd did not emerge from his room, although the time for which he was paid had run out. They summoned police, who removed the door of Todd's ninth floor room and discovered the body.

Find Death of Michael White Due to Accident

Witnesses Tell of Search for Boy Found in Pond

A coroner's inquest jury last night heard three witnesses then returned a verdict that eight-year-old Michael White's death was due to accidental drowning March 24 in a pond on the Paul Spangler farm in Harrisburg township.

Witnesses were Dennis Spangler, who was staying on an adjacent place; and Willard Fulkerson and Norman Shewmake, who entered the water where the boy was found. The inquest was conducted by Coroner Elmer M. Gibbons at the court house.

Spangler, brother of Paul, told of the lad's father, Roy White, coming down to him in a search for the boy, who had been outside playing while Mr. and Mrs. White, from Rosiclare, visited the Spanglers.

He told of joining the search of his sister calling the fire department to pump out a well where they thought the lad may have fallen, and of joining with Police Commissioner Charles R. Hine in hunting around the pond about 200 feet northwest of the house and finding tracks.

He told of the fire department arriving and of Fire Chief L. G. Martin probing the pond from the shore with a pike pole.

Shewmake, a volunteer fireman, told of arriving and wading into the water up to his shoulders, then taking the pike pole and probing the deep water. He said Fulkerson came in behind him and swam into the deep water, soon saying, "I've got him."

Fulkerson said that he felt the body, which was face downward, about two feet below the surface in water that was about eight feet deep. He and Shewmake pushed the body to the shore.

All told of the effort to revive the boy, with the fire department using a resuscitator, and of a physician giving a shot in an effort to bring back the lad. All said they saw no bruises or other marks on the body.

Fulkerson said the body when found was about five feet from the bank and offered the opinion that the boy apparently lost his balance and fell headfirst into the water.

They all testified that the well was probed with poles but that the search concentrated on the pond before pumping of the well was begun.

Labor Dep't Sees Employment Pickup

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Labor Department today forecast "a relatively brisk pickup" in employment this spring.

A department survey shows employment, in 130 of 149 major industrial centers, throughout the nation expect job increases between now and mid-May. The other 19 areas expect only very small employment slumps.

Total employment, including farm workers, stood at 62,577,000 in February, 2,639,000 higher than February a year ago. Unemployment totaled 2,914,000, almost 500,000 lower.

Former Carpenter Workers Sue For Accounting of Employee Funds

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—A number of former employees of Secretary of State Charles C. Carpenter today sued for an accounting of the fund which Carpenter collects from employees of the office.

The suit alleged more than $300,000 had been paid into the "flower fund" from a 2 per cent assessment of wages.

The suit was filed on behalf of the employees by Chicago attorney Julius Kabaker, who said he sought an accounting of the fund and an injunction immediately to prevent transfer of any of the funds or disposing of any account records before the accounting is made.

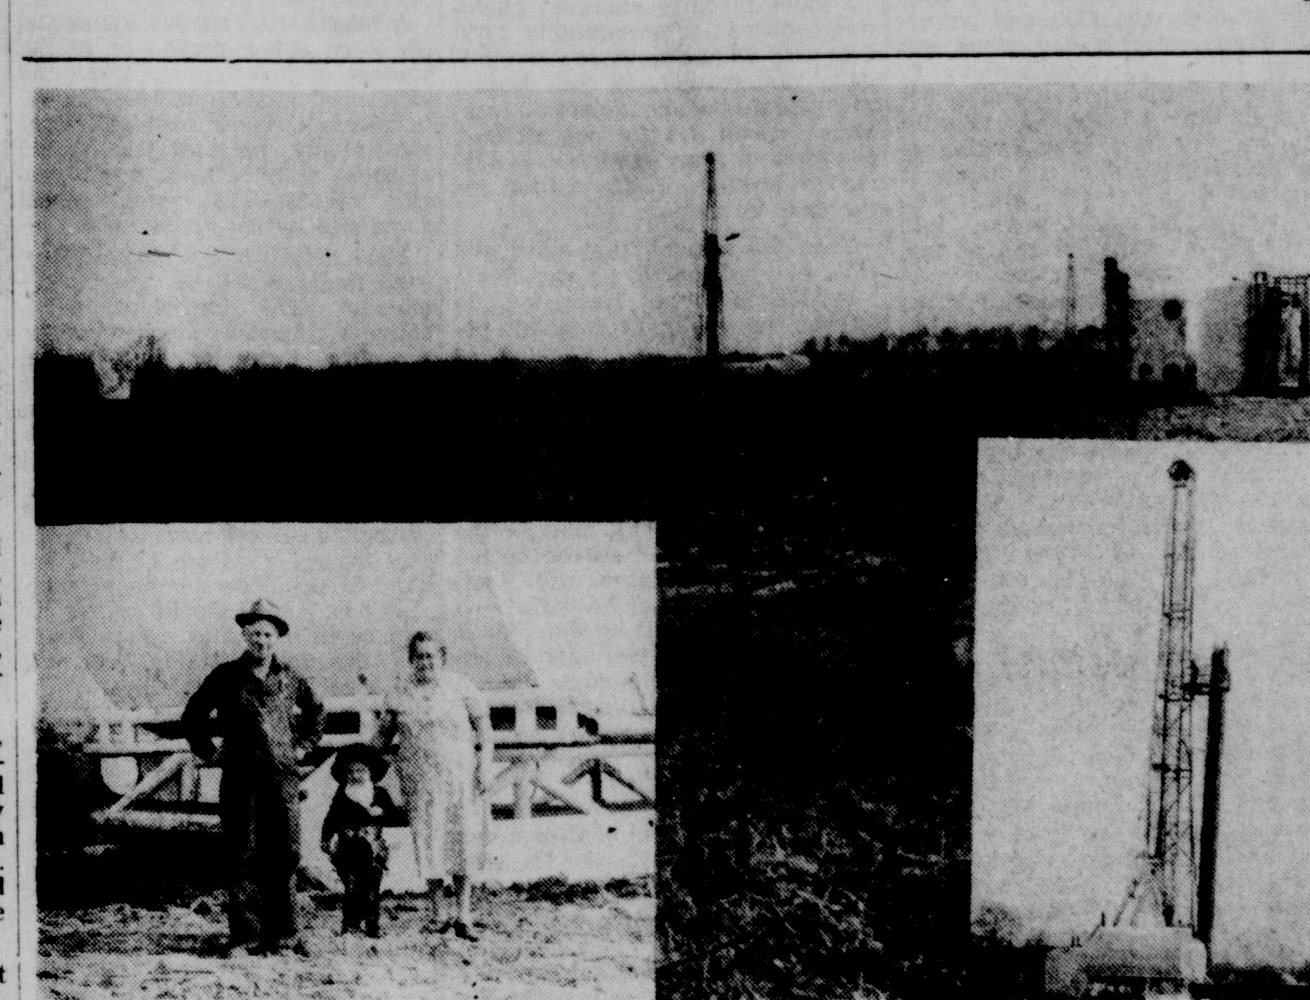

One of the former employees who brought the suit was Le Roy Cohen, now downstate campaign manager for Carpenter's Republican opponent in the race for nomination for secretary of state.

Ald. Nicholas J. Bohling of Chicago, Carpenter's opponent, recently sponsored a talk by Cohen in which the former Carpenter employee charged the fund contributions were required. Carpenter denied this, and said the contributions were voluntary and used to defray the expenses of the office and to aid in charitable and civic work.

"On behalf of people who have paid into the 2 per cent fund," He said some of the persons had been fired "because they hesitated to contribute to the fund."

Others resigned, he said, "be-

"HOT SPOT" IN SALINE COUNTY OIL ACTIVITY is in an area about three miles west and a little south of Galatia. And one of the "hot spots" of the area is the Claude Hefflin farm, where there are three producers, another well expected to come in any moment and two others nearing completion. ## Oil Replaces Crops as Conversation Topic in Hot Spot Area Near Galatia

By Bill Melton

Saline county continues to be one of the leading oil producing counties in Illinois and the county's "hot spot" at the present time is in the Galatia area.

Monday afternoon I went to the area, which is about three miles west and a little south of Galatia. Where corn once grew, oil derricks now loom on the horizon. Although this is the plowing and planting season, there is little or no talk of crops. Oil is the big topic of conversation.

Driving south on the Harco road and looking for a good spot for pictures and conversation, I saw what I thought to be just what I was looking for. And it was.

Turning off the Harco road and driving east for a short distance I stopped near a farm house that was surrounded by oil operations. It was the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hefflin and they and a grandson were out looking over the situation.

Mr. Hefflin stated he owns 156 acres and on one 80 acre tract there are now three producers, another well was practically complete as casing was set Sunday and at a fifth location coring operations were in progress.

Just across the road, on a 56-acre tract, a well was being drilled and was down about 2500 feet. And there was a slush pit being dug in preparation for another drilling operation.

The wells are good ones too, Mr. Hefflin revealed. He stated the first well brought in started flowing Dec. 29. During February it had daily production of 138 barrels.

It is away from most of the producers. If it is a good well, there will be plenty of activity near it, it is said.

The oil activity is attracting lots of visitors to the area. Mr. Hefflin remarked, "I saw many old friends and acquaintances Sunday. Some of them I hadn't seen in years."

reels. Another well came in Feb. 22 and just a day or so ago, the last day Mr. Hefflin had a figure for, the well pumped 107 barrels. A third well, producing since Sunday, March 18, had flowed as much as 332 barrels per day but it expected to settle down to about 260 barrels daily, it is said.

And the Hefflins aren't the only ones in on the oil boom.

He stated there had been 19 consecutive producers drilled. Other operations named included the T. G. Lewis wells, Ryan wells, the Webster Heirs, Noble Williams, Fenton Baker, Mac Gouge and the Buchman-Moran Robert C. Tuttle well.

Operations are being extended over a much larger area. It was stated one rig was to be moved to day to a spot approximately two miles west of the "hot spot." Another rig was setting almost a mile north, referred to as the Dave Karnes No. 1, and the speaker said "that is the one everyone is watching now."

Graduate Student Sentenced for Killing Woman with Shot from Hotel Window

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—A 21-year-old university graduate student today began a one to two-year prison sentence for the Friday the 13th killing of a woman he never knew.

Richard Kluckhohn, a University of Chicago student and the son of Harvard University scientists Dr. and Mrs. Clyde K. Kluckhohn, stood pale and trembling Monday while Judge Hamilton Hobgood passed sentence.

Hobgood told him the woman he killed with a careless shot from his hotel window with a target pistol "had the same right to life as anyone in this courtroom."

Kluckhohn was sentenced for involuntary manslaughter in the same courtroom where he was convicted after an earlier trial last June.

Kluckhohn, who could have received as much as 10 years in prison, will be eligible for parole in three months and, with time off for good behavior, will finish serving the sentence in nine months.

He was sentenced for the fatal shooting of Bernice Seawell, 43, of Arlington, Va., a shopper visiting Raleigh. The woman was shot to

Consolidation Discussed by Four School Districts

Parents, teachers and members of the boards of education from four school districts met at Bixler school Monday evening to discuss the possibility of consolidating.

The districts represented were Greenhill, Crossroads, Bixler and Cottage Grove.

County Superintendent of Schools Raymond Gardner met with the group and reported on the status of the schools, as determined by the last visitation by representatives of the state department of education.

The districts have been placed on a conditional recognition basis, which is just one step away from non-recognition, which would mean the loss of state funds, Mr. Gardner stated.

The group last night explored the possibilities of pooling the resources of the four districts to provide the type of educational program required by the state. Following the discussion, it was voted to have another meeting within two weeks, when additional information would be available.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Most Important Senate Business Is Election Contribution Reform; Texas Contractors
Were Contributors To Sen.
Lyndon Johnson In Texas Primary; Johnson Intervened To Stop Their Income-Tax Investigation.

WASHINGTON. — Probably the two most important pieces of unfinished business before the U. S.
Senate today are:

1. The election reform bill regulating campaign contributions, and

2. The investigation of these contributions in connection with the recent gas bill battle.

Regarding the first, Sen. Lyndon Johnson, the able and powerful Democratic leader, does not want to record contributions to primary elections. Regarding the second, Mr. Johnson has adroitly maneuvered any investigation of the gas lobby out of the hands of Senator Hennings (D., Mo.) who planned a forthright probe, into the hands of a diluted and, so far, inactive Senate committee.

In view of the importance of these two moves, it becomes important to examine the past relations of Senator Johnson with some of the most potent figures in the natural gas industry, including Brown and Root, the big Texas contractors who purchased the Big Inch and Little Inch pipelines from the government, and now operate them as Texas Eastern Pipeline; and who also own Texas Eastern Production, producers of gas and oil.

Brown and Root have been the heaviest backers of Lyndon Johnson during his political career. He has used their private airplane even during the gas debate, to fly back to Texas. It was at the Middleburg, Va., home of George Brown that he suffered a heart attack last summer, and he visited at the Brown home on several week ends during the gas battle.

Brown and Root continue to be active in Washington and elsewhere, politically and otherwise.
They are an important part of the contracting combine that got a billion-dollar contract to build U.
S. naval and air bases in Spain.

POWER IN TEXAS
And in Texas last month, their close friend Lieut. Gov. Ben Ramsey was called before a state grand jury to answer questions about contributions to his own political campaign. Vernon Sanford, of the Texas Press Association, who handled some of Ramsey's advertising, was indicted. Ramsey, who was defended by Brown and Root's attorney, Everett Looney, was not indicted.

It was Senator Johnson who,
last year, arranged for Lieut. Gov.
Ramsey to be Democratic national committeeman. At that time, Ramsey was considered Brown and Root's probable candidate for governor. Since the grand jury was called, he is not considered a likely candidate.

In view of this far-flung activity by one of the most powerful companies in the South, and in view of Senator Johnson's eloquent and oft-repeated views on the gas lobby probe, and on political contributions, it is important to examine Brown and Root's contributions to the leader of the Democratic party in the Senate and one of the most powerful figures in Washington.

Fortunately for the public, a record of Brown and Root's activities for Johnson has been carefully collected by the Internal Revenue Bureau. It made a thorough investigation of Brown and Root's taxes — until, suddenly, it was stopped.

FDR STOPS PROBE

It was stopped by President Roosevelt on Jan. 14, 1944, after Lyndon Johnson, then a congressman, had called on Roosevelt Jan.
13, in company with Alvin Wirtz, attorney for Brown and Root and former undersecretary of the Interior.

Roosevelt summoned Elmer Ivey, assistant secretary of the Treasury at 10 a. m., Jan. 14, and on Jan. 17, three days later, a special agent from Atlanta, Ga., was sent to Texas to quietly close the entire Brown and Root tax investigation.

I have recently obtained photostat copies of approximately 1,000 Treasury Department reports, letters, and exhibits in the Brown and Root-Lyndon Johnson case.
They are in a safe deposit box, available to any authorized Senate committee or any editor for personal inspection.

They tell a significant story and shed particular light on why Senator Johnson is not interested in having the public know about political contributions to primaries or having a Senate committee dig too deep into the gas lobby.

Senator Johnson has been confronted with the evidence in this case. His chief explanation is that ex-Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, against whom Johnson was running for the Senate at that time, stirred up the tax probe of Johnson and Root.
Johnson admits that he called on President Roosevelt on Jan. 13—it was a matter of newspaper record at that time—but claims he did not discuss the Brown and Root tax matter. The Treasury records give overwhelming testimony to the contrary, however.

Repeated efforts were made to reach George Brown of Brown and Root, but he did not take the telephone calls.

RUNABOUT CONTRIBUTIONS

The records of Internal Revenue show that one device used to finance the Johnson campaign was to make out checks to employees of Victoria Gravel company, a Brown and Root subsidiary, then use part of that money for campaign expenses.

For instance, on May 26, 1941,
$5,000 was paid to J. O. Corwin, Jr., by Victoria Gravel, and charged off as a business expense. Cor-

Thinking It Over— For Lent

By Robert Dieffenbacher, D.D.
Written for NEA Service

Tuesday of Holy Week was a busy day for the Master. All day long, He taught the multitudes who followed Him. He told one parable after another. People seemed to understand these very human and simple stories. Hour after hour they clamored for more of his inspiring stories.

Both the church leaders and the political leaders of the day became more frightened of His popularity.
With a single word, Jesus could have started a revolution which would have stripped both groups of their power and authority.
These politicians could not understand His sincerity. They thought only of what they would have done with the popularity He had. They reasoned that they had to strip Him of popularity and power. They tried to embarrass Him with questions which He could not answer, or which would make the crowds turn against Him.

Each time He answered the questions in such manner that the ques-tioners lost prestige or that He had not incriminated himself in any way. His answers left no question of His spiritual approach to every phase of life.

On this Tuesday of Holy Week, we ought to make it clear to our fellow men that we are putting God above worldly values.

Fairfield to Vote
On Fluoridation

FAIRFIELD, Ill. — Fairfield will hold a special election May 1 to determine public opinion on whether the city's water supply should be fluoridated.

The Fairfield City Council has twice rejected proposals that the water be fluoridated. Addition of the fluoride is credited with reducing tooth decay in children.

The Fairfield Parent-Teachers Assn. secured 1,700 signatures to a petition asking for the referendum.
If the voters approve fluoridation, it is expected the council would also vote for it.

Mrs. Mable Rawlings Celebrates Birthday
Mrs. Mable Rawlings celebrated her birthday Saturday, March 24, with a turkey dinner.

The group gathered around the table and sang "Happy Birthday" after which prayer was offered by Rev. W. H. Hughes. Following the meal the group enjoyed watching television.

Mrs. Rawlings received many lovely gifts and also a telephone call from her sister, Mrs. Ruth Grey, in Utica, N. Y., wishing her a happy birthday.

Those present were Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Hughes, Mr. and Mrs.
A. G. Crisp, Mr. and Mrs. D. B.
Barnhill, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. David Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Hodge, Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Rawlings.

Several sent gifts who were unable to be present.

Arab Nations with Russian Support Win Delay in UN Action in Middle East

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — A Russian-Arab power play today hamstringing the United Nations Security Council's efforts to head off a Middle East war.

Russia effectively blocked a United States proposal for immediate action by the Security Council and an Arab spokesman said a move would be made to transfer the whole problem to the General Assembly.

A dispatch from Damascus quoting Syrian Premier said Al Gazzi as saying Syria "opposed the United States resolution . . . and demands the American proposal be laid before the United Nations General Assembly for debating and voting."

Gazzi warned further that any foreign military intervention in the Middle East would lead to "war probably exceeding Middle East boundaries."

The council disregarded a warning from U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. Monday that the Palestine situation "has never been more serious."

It adjourned until Wednesday with a stipulation demanded by Russia that a vote to authorize a trip by Secretary General Dag

Hammarskjold to the Middle East would not be taken at least until next Tuesday.

Hammarskjold had planned to leave April 2 if the council had approved the American resolution.
Lodge deplored the delay.

Israel's Arab neighbors—Egypt, Syria, Jordan and Lebanon—made it clear that they had sought a delay. Despite Gazzi's statement in Damascus, a spokesman for the four Arab nations here said they did "not necessarily" oppose the U. S. resolution.

Green to Expand Store at Eldorado

Paul Green, successful hardware merchandiser at Eldorado, whose business has outgrown itself three times, is planning to erect another addition to the hardware store.

The new addition, which will be completed within 90 days and will adjoin the present store at 816 South State street, will be 70x87 feet in side with 15,414 feet of floor space. It will be known as "Green's Bargain Barn" and it is planned by Mr. Green to add new lines to his present extensive stock of hardware, housewares, plumbing, paint, etc.

In anticipation of the expansion
Joe Rapp Jr., has been employed as warehouse man.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

4-Door Riviera, Model 53

SWIFT-ACTING CURE

for that lazy-day feeling

If you're winter-weary—touched by spring fever—or simply bored by your present car—here's the tonic to cure your condition.

Come sit behind the wheel of a brand-new Buick, and let your foot lean lightly on the gas pedal.

Jet-quick take-off will put you well on the road to recovery—before you can say "Variable Pitch Dynaflo."

And your pulse will really rev up when that pedal goes down to switch the pitch for an instantaneous burst of safety-surge passing power.

But Variable Pitch Dynaflo, with its gas-saving double-action getaway, is only one phase of Buick's full cure for that lazy-day feeling.

There's the positive "charge" in this Buick's power.

Power that laughs off the toughest climb you can find for it—power that does the difficult without drawing a deep breath—power whose snap and pepper come from Buick's own big 322-cubic-inch V8.

There's "live" control that makes this car feel like part of you.

"Sense of direction" almost mind-reads your steering. Brakes and throttle execute orders with sure and sensitive precision.

Sweeping visibility focuses your eyes clearly on roadway, lights and intersections.

Instruments read quickly—controls come easily to hand. Interiors are sumptuous, roomy—in hues harmonized with the whole color theme.

The sweetest ride yet set on wheels carries you smoothly on a chassis gauged, gaited and girded for modern high-performance mobility—a chassis shared by no other car in this world.

And you can be sure about the smartness of Buick styling, for it bears the best endorsement any car could have—more buyers than any other save the two well-known smaller cars.

So what's holding you housebound, when such a wonderful spring tonic is free for the taking?

Pick up our invitation to guest-pilot a spang-new Buick.

While you're here, why not take two minutes more to see how handily you could take home the new Buick that's best for you?

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Join Buick's "THRILL-A-MINUTE CLUB"
Just drop in, drive a 1956 Buick, and discover the new thrills in ride, handling, power and switch-pitch performance to be had in the Best Buick Yet.

Warren Wright Charges 'Intolerant' One-Man Government in Springfield

By United Press
State Treasurer Warren E. Wright, opposing Gov. William G. Stratton for the Republican nomination for governor, Monday night said there is an "intolerant, overbearing, double-dealing, one-man government in Springfield."
Wright, speaking on his 63rd birthday at a homecoming rally in Jacksonville, accused Stratton of seeking the vice presidency and of trying to run the Republican Party in Illinois.
He said Stratton "has just been beaten in the shortest race in history for the office of vice president of the United States."
"One Campaign Speech"
Wright said Stratton "recently made one campaign speech in New York under the auspices of Tom Dewey. And the voters of New Hampshire answered him by writing in Dick Nixon's name so many times that Stratton quit the race right now and hurried back to Illinois to see how his toll road program was coming along."
Stratton has "gotten too big for his britches" in trying to run the GOP and has tried to dictate a slate of candidates and boost "disgruntled" Cook County Democrats for election as Republicans, Wright said.

Wright said Stratton "forced" a toll road program on the state "for the benefit of the investment bankers and the big truck operators."
He also said Stratton has ignored the economic plight of Illinois farmers, killed a state employee pay increase bill by a "sneak trick" of finding a flaw in the bill's passage, and vetoed a Korean bonus bill, breaking his "promise."
Chapman Speaks for Stratton
Wright said the governor claimed credit for spending more money for schools and highways, but the taxpayers should be given the credit.
At Springfield, Lt. Gov. John W. Chapman urged support for the regular Republican state ticket headed by Stratton.
Chapman spoke at a Republican headquarters rally sponsored by the Lincoln Republican Women's Club. Another speaker was Mrs. Faye Searcy, clerk of the Supreme Court and a candidate for election to that post.

Returns to U.S.
From Red Captivity
NEW YORK (AP)—Herman Field returned to the United States today almost seven years after he sailed for a brief European visit which led to five years of captivity in a Communist cellar in Poland.
"I was kidnapped," Field told newsmen aboard the liner Queen Mary on which he came home with his wife, Kate, and their two sons. "I never expected to be talking to you on this pier today."
Field, his brother, Noel, and Noel's wife were key figures in an international mystery which has yet to be completely solved.

Drive Nearly Completed for Hardin Hospital

A drive to raise $53,000 to provide Hardin County's financial needs for a half-million dollar hospital is nearing the end, it was announced today.
Only $7,000 more is needed to complete the goal for the new general hospital, Russell Kibler, chairman of the drive, states. Construction should begin in July, he said.
The hospital will cost approximately $492,000 and bids for the 25-bed structure will be opened June 14.

The federal government will furnish a third of the cost—about $164,000—and a major portion of the funds have been donated by Alcoa at Rosiclare, Ozark-Mahoning Co., and Minerva Oil Co. Alcoa gave $200,000; Ozark, $50,000, and Minerva $25,000.

The hospital will serve residents in Hardin county and northern Pope county.
Applications to the federal government must be filed in Springfield before April 15.
The hospital will be air conditioned and includes facilities for TV sets in every room.
The hospital will be located on Sunset ridge in Rosiclare.

Canada Urges West Call Russia's Bluff

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP)—Canada proposed today that the West "call Russia's bluff" on economic aid by offering to exchange blueprints in the economic as well as disarmament field.
The Canadian plan was proposed at a "good neighbor" meeting of President Eisenhower, Mexican President Ruiz Cortines and Canadian Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent.
Canada, Mexico and the United States also pledged "any moral and economic aid that we can" to "new countries" of the free world, particularly in the Far East.
White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said under questioning that this pledge of aid did not exclude Israel.

Order Mt. Vernon Mayor to Remove Vacuum Cleaners

MOUNT VERNON, Ill. (AP)—Four Mount Vernon councilmen today ordered Mayor O. R. Buford to move his vacuum cleaner business out of the city hall on or before May 1, and to pay $840 in back rent.

The council took the action at a special meeting this morning which then recessed until afternoon. The vote for Buford's eviction was 4-1, Buford dissenting.
The four councilmen then passed a motion that in the event Buford does not vacate the room he now occupies by May 1, the city attorney shall institute "appropriate legal proceedings . . . forcible entry and detainer or ejectment . . . to obtain possession thereof."
The councilmen also ordered the city attorney, if he deems it advisable, to include in the same suit or a separate legal action legal proceedings to collect the delinquent rent and also rent for the month of April, amounting to $120, or whatever amount may remain unpaid at that time.
Buford claims he is entitled to $35 per month reduction in his rent because the City Council refused to give him a separate office for use as mayor. The city manager now occupies the offices formerly used by Mount Vernon mayors previous to the start of the city manager government and Buford's four-year term in 1953.
The Mount Vernon mayor said the amount he is entitled to would pay his rent until Sept. 1, 1956.

Beta Sigma Phi Sorority To Conduct Lily Parade For Crippled Children

James N. Porter, executive secretary of the Southern Illinois Association For The Crippled, Inc., the Easter Seal Society, reports that the Beta Sigma Phi sorority of Harrisburg will conduct a Lily Parade for crippled children on the business streets of Harrisburg Saturday, March 31.
According to Mrs. William Keen, service chairman of the Harrisburg Beta Sigma Phi chapter, March 31 has been proclaimed "National Crippled Children's Day." Beta Sigma Phi will be assisted by local grade school girls who will sell white paper lilies made by handicapped employees of the Easter Seal Society. The lily is the symbol of the society.
Porter reports over 90 per cent of the funds raised stay in Illinois for services to both crippled children and adults. Two of the most important phases of the society's present program are the annual crippled children's camp, and a speech and hearing treatment center.

Pre-Easter Services At Dorrisville Church

Pre-Easter services began last evening at the Dorrisville Social Brethren church and will continue throughout the week.
Rev. Ernest Tison delivered the message last night and tonight the sermon will be brought by Rev. George Dougherty. Speakers the remainder of the week will be: Wednesday, Rev. Harry Carr; Thursday, Rev. Clifford Bennett; Friday, Rev. L. L. Gullett, and Saturday, Rev. Clifford Potter.
A Sunrise service will be held Sunday at 5 a. m.

Russell Sparks West to 74-62 All-Star Victory

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Big Bill Russell of San Francisco, a hero all over again from the East-West Shrine All-Star game, said today "There isn't enough money to keep me from trying for the Olympics."
Russell, who sparked the West to a 74-62 win in Monday night's game, meant that money from the pro ranks wouldn't lure him away from being an amateur for the games at Melbourne this November.

The 6-10 All-America was named unanimously as the outstanding player of the classic. He was high point man with 18 points, and as usual his big arms cut down scoring from his opponents. Once again he played with K. C. Jones, his All-America teammate, for an almost unbeatable duo for Coach Floyd Stahl's West All-Stars.
Russell scored the game's first basket and sat out the latter stages as his replacement, 7-foot Don Holdebeck of Houston hit ten straight points for the West to insure the win.

The West jumped to a 14-0 lead in the game, six of the points by Russell, before the East tallied on two free throws and a bucket by Darrell Floyd of Furman with four minutes gone.
For the East, it was a battle from behind all the way and it didn't get close until near the end of the first half when Tom Heinsohn of Holy Cross and Bob Burrow of Kentucky, neither of whom started, went into the game and pulled to within three points at 35-32.

The West, ahead 38-32 at the half, soon widened it to 14 points. The closest the East got in the second half was six points at 50-44. Freeman was second high in scoring for the West with 14 points. Art Bunte got 10.
For the East, it was Heinsohn with 15; Darrell Floyd of Furman and Burrow with 12 each and Vic Molodet of North Carolina State with eight.

Doctor's Day Observed in County

Saline county doctors were wearing carnations today.
Reason is that it is Doctor's Day, a day on which is focused the importance of the doctor to his community and the unsung services he performs.
The carnations were given out by the Auxiliary to the Saline County Medical society.

FIGURE IT THIS WAY! For as little as 95 cents a week more than you'd pay for a small hardtop in the "lowest price field"—you can step up to the biggest, best looking, most luxurious hardtop in the "medium price field" . . . the Dodge Coronet V-8 Lancer!

Your King Size Buy-by far! '56 DODGE Coronet

Here is the value that will change your idea about "price class." The King Size Dodge Coronet actually brings you more length, looks and luxury, more big car roominess and big car ride, than other cars in the "medium price field"—even those costing a thousand dollars more!
Yet, the exciting news is this! For all its size, comfort, performance and style, the King Size Dodge Coronet is priced right down with the lowest. In fact, you can own a Dodge Coronet V-8 Lancer hardtop for only about 95 cents a week more than the same body style in the small car field.

Size it up with others in the medium price field
Car "B"	Dodge is 6.9 inches longer
Car "M"	Dodge is 5.6 inches longer
Car "O"	Dodge is 7.7 inches longer
Car "P"	Dodge is 6.4 inches longer

Price it against small cars in the "low price field"
Car "C"	Dodge is 14.5 inches longer
Car "F"	Dodge is 13.5 inches longer
Yet Dodge costs only $4.11 a month more (less than 95 cents a week!)*

Aged Widow Burns to Death

GRANITE CITY, Ill. — A 75-year-old Granite City widow burned to death Monday when her clothing caught fire.

Fire Chief Elijah King said Mrs. Bertha Daigler apparently ignited her clothing while attempting to clean the basement stairway of her home with gasoline.

The woman staggered outside and collapsed. Neighbors tried to beat out the flames with throw rugs.

Couple Who Lost Two Sons in War Loses Two More in Auto-Train Crash

HARVEY, Ill. — After having lost two sons in war, a Chicago couple lost two more sons in a train-auto collision Sunday.

Dead are Franklin, 18, and Vernon, 20, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Stacy, Chicago. Walter R. Ohlberg, Chicago, the 16-year-old driver of the auto, was also killed.

The car was driven around the gates at a crossing and was struck by a Grand Trunk Western Railroad freight train, police said. Wreckage was strewn along the tracks for more than a block.

The Stacys' lost one son during World War II, and another during the Korean War.

The horse and mule population on U. S. farms decreased by 3,500,000 from 1950 to 1954.

Ask Funds to Safeguard New Harmony Bridge

WASHINGTON — Rep. Winfield K. Denton (D-Ill.) asked the House Appropriations Committee today to put up $340,000 to safeguard the west pier of the New Harmony Bridge from further erosion by the Wabash River.

He said another $360,000 will be needed later to complete the job. When this is done, along with other work to be done privately to shore up other bridge foundations, the states of Illinois and Indiana will take over the bridge from private toll operators and make it free.

The bridge, operated by the White County Bridge Commission since 1941, has been the object of an inquiry by a special House committee headed by Denton. The committee wanted to know why after so many years the commission still was charging tolls and the bridge never had been turned over to the states, as planned.

Denton said after the committee started its hearings the bridge bonds were retired, but that Illinois and Indiana refused to accept the structure because their engineers said it was not structurally sound. They found that the river was striking the west bank at a critical point and was eating away at the piers.

Under the project for which money was sought by Denton the Army Engineers would complete a dike and diversion channel that would change the course of the flow enough to safeguard the bridge.

"The people who use this bridge have more than paid for its construction by their payment of tolls," Denton said. "It seems unfair to require them to continue to pay for use of this bridge because of a condition in the Wabash river channel which the government is obligated to correct."

Strattons to Spend Easter Sunday at Executive Mansion

SPRINGFIELD — Gov. and Mrs. William G. Stratton will spend Easter Sunday at the executive mansion here, the governor's office reported today.

The governor's official schedule calls for a speech today at a Riverside Republican women's club luncheon at Lyons, and another Wednesday night at a Kane County Republican rally at St. Charles.

The chief executive will hold his regular "open house" Thursday.

Enlists in Marines

James L. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Martin, Stonefort, enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps and is now in San Diego, Calif., for his basic training. He enlisted in the Marines under the present two year active duty program.

Further information concerning this program may be received from the Marine recruiter in the Employment Office at Harrisburg every Friday at 11 a. m. or the Marine Corps Recruiting Station, Wood Building, Benton, Ill.

Potatoes, carrots and other root vegetables retain more of their nutritive value if they are cooked in their jackets.

Two Dead, Four Escape from Trench Cave-Ins

DEARBORN, Mich. — Two workers died and four others escaped Monday in cave-ins which turned the earth into slimy tombs.

Fred Scott, 49, was pulled from the muck of an 11-foot trench collapse after 40 men dug frantically for two hours. Firemen and volunteers battled the sticky earth with shovels, timbers and trench jacks before freeing Scott.

"I was mighty lucky," said Scott who was hospitalized for shock and internal injuries. "I feel pretty good although my side hurts a little."

Scott said he never lost consciousness while trapped and was aware of what happened at all times.

Rescue workers said the suction of the mud acted like quicksand and hampered their efforts. A second man trapped in the cave-in, Arthur Reese, 43, was dead when they reached him.

John R. Sensing, 49, and Harold Thomas scrambled to safety but neither could explain his escape.

"I guess I just scratched my way out," Sensing said. "How, I don't know."

Robert R. White, 39, died several hours earlier when a 17-foot trench in which he was working on sewer connections crumbled, burying him under five feet of dirt.

Frank Vorlone, 35, a fellow worker, collapsed from exhaustion while trying to free White and was buried in a second cave-in. A steam shovel operator eased his scoop into the ditch to bolster the sagging walls and a third worker dug out Vorlone and White after 45 minutes.

Ceiling Falls in Synagogue; Three Hurt

NEW YORK — A section of ceiling collapsed in a Bronx synagogue during a Passover service today, injuring three women, two of them seriously.

CONLEY SUFFERS SHOULDER TROUBLE

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — Pitcher Gene Conley, who suffered late last year with arm miseries, was lost to the Milwaukee Braves for about a week today with an inflamed tendon in his right shoulder.

Dr. Michael De Cosola made the diagnosis Monday and advised the towering Conley to take heat treatment and medication from Trainer Dr. Charles Lack the remainder of the week.

The Braves lost to the Pittsburgh Pirates, 16-9, Monday. They play today against the St. Louis Cardinals, who suffered a 3-1 loss to the Cincinnati Redlegs Monday.

Kramer's Tennis Stars Scheduled At SIU April 16

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Jack Kramer's world-famous professional tennis stars have been scheduled for a one-night performance Monday, April 16, Southern Illinois university officials said today.

Featured in the group are four of the world's top tennis attractions: Tony Trabert, world's amateur champion; Richard Gonzales, world's professional champion; Rex Noel Hartwig of Australia; and Pancho Segura of Ecuador.

The SIU clash will be one of the 100-match series between Trabert and Gonzales, who are battling for a $25,000 prize, which will be awarded to the series winner.

Trabert and Hartwig will compete with Segura and Gonzales in the double matches.

The exhibition series opened in Madison Square Garden and includes many major American cities. It will be the only big-time tennis exhibition ever scheduled in the Carbondale area. University officials pointed out that the success of the special performance will be used as a basis for the possible scheduling of other top-notch sports attractions.

Victories of Trabert, former captain of the U. S. Davis Cup team, include the French and Wimbledon titles, the National Indoor Singles, and the National Clay Court Singles, and the National Singles at Forest Hills.

Gonzales has won 14 major professional titles in 18 possible chances during the past six years. He's also credited with serving a ball at 112 miles per hour—the fastest service ever recorded.

The matches will be played at the SIU gym. Admission will be $1.50.

Tryouts Saturday For Local Entry In Coal Belt League

Weather permitting, baseball will get underway in Harrisburg Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Harrisburg will have an entry in the Coal Belt league again this year and tryouts for the team will begin this week end, it has been announced, with practice being held on the newly constructed diamond across from the fairgrounds.

The Coal Belt league is for teenagers and any boy living within 15 miles of Harrisburg and whose 20th birthday comes on or after May 20, 1956, will be eligible to play with the Harrisburg club.

Boys wanting to play Coal Belt league baseball must complete an application form and have it notarized before the opening of the season, May 20.

Harrisburg plans to get a little jump on the opening date, by playing its first game Saturday night, May 19, with Benton the visiting club.

Members of the league are Marion, Benton, Herrin, Murphysboro, Anna, Du Quoin, Christopher, Pinckneyville, Carbondale and Harrisburg. The teams will play a home-and-home series with every other member of the league.

It is reported that all clubs except Harrisburg has a sponsor. The Harrisburg team has suits, but will need other equipment, such as bats, balls, socks and caps. Anyone who would like to help the team is asked to contact Charles "Huck" Gee or Clarence "Rabbit" Owen, who are working to get the team in operation.

With regard to the voting, Mr. Willis said "... there were about 200 principals who didn't even bother to vote. Of those that did, a slight majority favored the 16-team tournament as opposed to the four team."

When asked if this wasn't minority rule Mr. Willis replied "No, not exactly. Of the principals who had teams in the tournament the past five to ten years, there was a majority favoring a change from the 16."

When asked if the eight-team plan would be tried again next season, Willis said "... This is a permanent change, not an experiment. Of course, it can be changed at any time by the directors."

Personally I preferred the 16-team meet, but the school men I talked with following the 1955 tournament were all in favor of curtailing the tournament in some manner. They all were of the opinion that too much time was missed from the classrooms by the 16-team, three-or-four day tournament.

My preference is based on "color and appeal." The school people must think of the educational values, as well as the spectator angle.

I can agree with Connell that the tourney has lost some of its appeal, but also believe it is a school affair and should be run by school men.

If they sincerely believe the eight-team tourney is best from the over-all point of view, considering both the educational and athletic angle, then leave it as an eight-team tourney.

IAA Leaders Urge Soil Bank

DECATUR, Ill. (U.P.) — Illinois Agricultural Assn. leaders Monday urged support of the soil bank plan as "the best solution yet" for the problem of surpluses.

Some 400 Farm Bureau leaders from 99 county farm bureaus assembled by the annual IAA spring leaders conference.

Paul E. Mathias, general counsel for the IAA, said the IAA would urge immediate House support of the soil bank plan in the farm bill now in Senate-House conference committee.

Mathias said the soil bank will "control surpluses in order to bring supplies in line with demand."

IAA President Otto Steffy, chairman of the conference, said the IAA would expand its information program to keep its members informed on proposed legislation and other farm problems.

Looking At Sports

By BILL MELTON

The fourth gymnastic show to be sponsored by the Carmi Township high school will be held Thursday, March 29, starting at 8 p. m. at the Carmi high school gym.

Edward Hillyard, CTHS gymnastic coach, states the purpose of sponsoring such programs is to create an interest in the field of gymnastics in the schools of southern Illinois.

Three schools will participate in the program. Indiana university, featuring Dick Albershardt, National Collegiate and Big Ten champion on the trampoline, Southern Illinois university and the Carmi high school team, will all have a part in the program.

Less than a month from now, Friday, April 20, the St. Louis Cardinals open their home season with Milwaukee the visitors. Tickets for all Card home games went on sale Monday, March 26. Tickets can be ordered by mail by addressing Busch Stadium Cardinal Ticket Office, St. Louis 7, Mo., enclosing check or money order, and a self-addressed stamped envelope for return of tickets. Ticket prices are: reserved seat, $1.85; loge box, $3. For children under 12 years of age, these prices are 60 cents.

The sports department of the Commercial News, Danville, has taken a stand against the state basketball tournament as operated this past season. The sports writer, Fowler Connell, refers to the tourney—formerly the "Sweet Sixteen"—as the "Eight Ball Eight."

The Register has received a copy of a column that appeared recently in the Commercial-News. The column gives the results of a 20-minute question and answer period between Connell and Al Willis, executive secretary of the Illinois High School association.

The column boils down to criticism of the eight-team tourney at Champaign by Connell and defense of the setup by Willis.

Connell's criticism, in a great extent, is built around the fact that players from eight schools are deprived of going to Champaign by losing out in the "super sectional" and that much of the color of the state tourney is lost.

Connell also brings out that when the proposition to change the tourney from 16 teams going to Champaign to the eight-team meet, school principals throughout the state were given an opportunity to vote. A majority of 50-75 or more voted in favor of retaining the 16 team affair, making the decision to change a minority rule.

Mr. Willis states he thinks there is as much "color" as ever and besides, it isn't up to the state association to provide the color.

He also thinks the boys get as much a thrill out of the super-sectional as they would by playing first round games at Champaign. On that point, Willis is quoted as saying "I believe these boys love to play basketball no matter where it's played. It doesn't make any difference to them whether the game is played in Peoria, Evanston or Huff gym."

With regard to the voting, Mr. Willis said "... there were about 200 principals who didn't even bother to vote. Of those that did, a slight majority favored the 16-team tournament as opposed to the four team."

When asked if this wasn't minority rule Mr. Willis replied "No, not exactly. Of the principals who had teams in the tournament the past five to ten years, there was a majority favoring a change from the 16."

When asked if the eight-team plan would be tried again next season, Willis said "... This is a permanent change, not an experiment. Of course, it can be changed at any time by the directors."

Personally I preferred the 16-team meet, but the school men I talked with following the 1955 tournament were all in favor of curtailing the tournament in some manner. They all were of the opinion that too much time was missed from the classrooms by the 16-team, three-or-four day tournament.

Antonelli, Ridzik in Form As Giants Blast Orioles, 14-1; Cubs Batter Indians

PHOENIX, Ariz. — Johnny Antonelli and Steve Ridzik, two of Manager Bill Rigney's biggest pitching problems, have the rookie New York Giants' skipper singing today.

Antonelli, reverting to his 1954 form, hurled seven innings for the first time in Monday's 14-1 rout of Baltimore, allowing only one run and never more than one hit in an inning. Then Ridzik, who was acquired from the Phillies, held the Orioles hitless for the last two frames.

Today the Giants play host to the Chicago Cubs, but won't have to face old nemesis Warren Hacker. The blond right-hander pitched six scoreless innings Monday in a 9-5 triumph over Cleveland.

CUBS ROOKIES BATTER INDIANS' RELIEF HURLER
TUCSON, Ariz. — Ray Narleski, ace relief hurler of the Cleveland Indians, took a heavy battering by rookies in Monday's 9-5 loss to the Cubs.

The fast-ball right-hander gave up six runs in the third inning as Cub rookies up from the Pacific Coast league did most of the damage.

The victory-starved Baltimore Orioles tangle with the Indians today.

LONG PACES PIRATES TO 16-9 TRIUMPH
FT. MYERS, Fla. — The Pittsburgh Pirates had good reason today for expecting first-baseman Dale Long to improve on his 1955 performance.

Long, who hit .291 for the Pirates last season, has hit brilliantly by this spring and Monday drove in six runs to pace Pittsburgh to a 16-9 triumph over the Milwaukee Braves. Long hit a 400-foot double, 415-foot triple and 385-foot home run.

The Pirates today play the Cincinnati Reds, who got a nice inning performance from Brooks Lawrence to beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 3-1, Monday.

A'S THIRD BASEMAN CONVERTS TO CENTERFIELD
LAKELAND, Fla. — Coach Harry Craft joined Manager Lou Boudreau today in praising Hector Lopez' efforts to convert from a third baseman into the Kansas City Athletics' centerfielder.

"He gets a very good jump on the ball," Craft, a star defensive outfielder with the Cincinnati Redlegs 15 years ago, said. "That is the most important thing for a center-fielder. We think we can teach him the rest."

The Detroit Tigers supply the Athletics with their competition today.

DOBY TRIPLES, SINGLES AS WHITE SOX WIN, 9-2
TAMPA, Fla. — There just doesn't seem to be any stopping Larry Doby of the Chicago White Sox this spring.

The 31-year old center-fielder, a grapefruit slugging sensation all spring, continued his pace Monday when he tripled and singled to lead

SIU Wrestlers Lose NCAA Tilt

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Three Southern Illinois university wrestlers lost in the NCAA national wrestling meet preliminaries at Stillwater, Okla. last week end.

Dick Delgado of Oklahoma university defeated Ray Bergfeld, SIU wrestler from Overland, Mo., 8-1, in the 115-pound class, while SIU captain Paul Steingrubb, Waterloo, dropped a 12-5 match to David Gallagher of Lehigh university in the 191-pound class.

SIU heavyweight Ed Hayes, San Francisco, Calif., was pinned by Don Durham of the Coast Guard Academy with only four seconds remaining in their heavyweight division match.

Hayes led until the final 30 seconds.

The host school, Oklahoma A&M, nosed out Oklahoma university, 65-62, for the title. More than 20,000 persons saw a record-breaking 200 wrestlers perform during the two-day meet.

ORIOLES OPTION TWO PLAYERS TO VANCOUVER

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. — The Baltimore Orioles announced today they have optioned second-baseman Don Lepper and outfielder Jim Pisoni to Vancouver of the Pacific Coast league.

Lepper hit .114 in 40 games for the Orioles last season while Pisoni hit .270 for San Antonio in the Texas league. The Orioles also optioned pitcher Lloyd Gozney to San Antonio where he had a 1-3 record last season.

DOGGERS BLAST LEFTY McDERMOTT

CLEARWATER, Fla. — If spring fever has turned your head in the direction of the next World Series, you can scratch Mickey McDermott as a possible New York Yankee starter against the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Yankee Manager Casey Stengel got away with pitching lefties Whitey Ford and Tommy Byrne against the Dodgers in the 1955 classic. So he decided to see how Lefty McDermott, acquired from Washington during the winter, would look against them.

Result: The Dodgers fell on McDermott for 11 runs in the second inning.

The Dodgers play the Philadelphia Phillies today.

Bituminous mines owned and operated by America's four largest steel companies are expected by one leading authority to produce more than 52 million tons of coal in 1956, which would be more than 4.5 million tons above 1955 production.

Just a Corpse at Twilight

By Robert Martin

XXXIII

The first door we saw was the right one. I knew it was the right one, because it opened into a room that faced the street, and because yellow light filtered from beneath it.

We didn't waste time shouting for Wilbur Tweed to open up. I think that both of us knew that it would be futile to shout at Wilbur now, and we hit the door together with our shoulders. On the third lunge the lock let loose, splintering the wood beside it, and the door burst inward. We stumbled into the room.

Wilbur Tweed, clad in red and blue striped pajamas, was on a big four-poster bed, his head and shoulders slumped against a polished cherry headboard. He was still alive; his mouth moved without sound and one eye gleamed brightly with a final flare of life before it glazed and half closed. The other eye, the right one, was gone. The place where it had been was a dark hole. Before we reached him, his body crumpled and his chin sank to his chest. Lying slantwise across his chest was a .22 repeating rifle with a telescopic sight clamped to the barrel. His feet were bare, looking pale and somehow obscene, and I knew he'd pulled the trigger with his toe.

Behind us Nellie Tweed's agonized scream filled the room. She tried to fling herself across Wilbur's body, and it took both Dr. Van Horn and myself to get her out of the room. I suggested one of the adjoining bedrooms, but Van Horn shook his head. We got her down the stairs and took her to a small room off the hall where there was a divan.

I stayed with her, awkwardly patting her shuddering shoulders, while Van Horn went out to the sheriff's car and returned with his black bag. Skillfully he filled a hypo needle, pulled up one of Nellie's short sweater sleeves, and pressed the needle gently to her arm.

"There, Miss," the doctor said gently. "You will be better now." "Why did he do it?" she sobbed. "Why did Wilbur do that? I—I knew he was upset about—about Alice. But he still has me. He knows that I will take care of him."

Van Horn looked up at me, jerked his head toward the door. I followed him into the hall. "She will sleep for a short time," he said in a low voice. "The sedation I gave her was light. But someone had better stay with her."

I nodded. Sheriff Abner Cornwallis came down the stairs and joined us in the hall. His cigar was badly frayed, but it was still clamped between his teeth. I remembered that when Van Horn and I had left Wilbur's room with Nellie, the sheriff had been talking into a phone on a stand beside Wilbur's bed. "The undertaker from Indian Landing is coming," he said, "and so is Doc Jarrett."

I said, "You don't need a corner to tell you that Wilbur committed suicide."

"I know, I know," he said peevishly, "but it's the law."

While we waited, the sheriff and I went back upstairs. None of us had touched Wilbur, but the weight of his body had caused it to slump a little lower on the bed. I dropped a handkerchief over the barrel of the rifle, lifted it from Wilbur's body and carefully laid it across the arms of a nearby chair. The sheriff watched me silently, his little bloodshot eyes beneath the thick brows not missing a movement of mine. As I turned back to the bed, I saw something I hadn't noticed before—the corner of a folded paper protruding from Wilbur's pajama pocket. I turned and looked at the sheriff. He had seen it, too. "Go ahead," he said grimly. "Take it out."

I removed the paper from the pocket and unfolded it. My name was at the top and it was covered with tight penciled handwriting. Wilbur Tweed's signature was at the bottom. I read:

I killed Frank Osborn. I wanted his wife and I wanted her money. I am in debt and will lose my business. I put poison in Frank's drink. He died right away. Dr. Dick called it a heart attack. I knew he would, because he had often told me that when Frank died it would be because of his heart, and not from silicosis. I know Dr. Dick and I knew he would not change his mind. So I was safe. I planned it, because we were all invited to Alice's house that night. I got Frank's funeral, of course, but I was worried. When I embalmed him I removed the heart, lungs, stomach and intestines to eliminate the traces of the poison. It was stupid of me, but I wanted to protect myself in every detail. I never dreamed that the Welfare Commission would investigate and do an autopsy. When you told me about it on Friday, I became frightened. That is why I opposed you. When Nellie told me you were going to do the autopsy today, I knew I was finished. I could not explain the condition of Frank's body. I have been waiting for you ever since Alice's funeral. I have been watching from the window. When you arrive, I will use Nellie's gun. That is all that is left for me to do. I am sorry for everything. I am sorry to leave Nellie alone. Tell her I love her.

Silently I handed the paper to the sheriff. He held it away from his eyes, squinting at the closely-spaced words. When he had finished, he said, "Poor Wilbur." "And poor Alice," I said. "Why don't you forget Alice?" he said with sudden harshness. "Ain't you caused enough trouble?"

I didn't answer him. I'd had nothing to do with Frank Osborn's death, but as an agent of the Commission I had directly caused Wilbur Tweed's death. Maybe Wilbur deserved to die. An eye for an eye, and all that.

Don't be embarrassed by loose false teeth slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, talk or laugh. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This pleasant powder gives a remarkable sense of added comfort and security by holding plates more firmly. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.
